

The Elysian Wins 2024 Good Design Award

ET2 Contemporary Lighting is proud to announce that the Elysian Collection, designed by Brett Beldock, has been honored with a 2024 Good Design Award by the Chicago Athenaeum: Museum of Architecture and Design.

Featuring clear glass cylinders separated by rippled clear crystal, the Elysian is set on a sleek Natural Aged Brass frame. Integrated LEDs enhance the collection's ethereal beauty, creating a luminous play of textures and light. The collection includes versatile configurations such as vertical and horizontal pendants, wall sconces, and portable lighting options, making it perfect for a range of designs.

As the world's oldest and most prestigious program for design excellence, the Good Design Awards celebrate sustainability, exceptional creativity, and, above all, outstanding design. The 2024 jury, convened by The Chicago Athenaeum, reviewed over a thousand submissions from leading global manufacturers and design firms, setting a rigorous standard for this year's honorees.
